A disastrous fire occurred in White Mills early Sunday morning which totally destroyed the three-story building on the main street of the town occupied by Minor Brown and family and owned by W. H. # LEFT HOME WITHOUT INFORM-ING HUSBAND.

Mysterious Disappearance of Woman With Another Man Causes Much Local Excitement.

Last summer a good looking, smooth talking young fellow landed in town and took up the work of soliciting subscriptions for various magazines. He continued in this line until fall when he secured a job with one of our largest manufacturing concerns. When he took up this work he boarded with one of his fellow workmen until last Thursday when he suddenly left town, after bidding his fellow workmen, friends and landlord goodbye. He said he had secured a better position in Massachusetts. This young man, it is alleged, had been very friendly with the wife of his landlord but nothing was thought of this at the time. The peculiar part is that on the day he left Honesdale the wife of the landlord also suddenly left town, but, it is said, on different trains. The husband and sons family do not know where the woman went as she left no word. It is reported that the young man has been married and has a wife living.

PLAN TO BOOST HONESDALE TWO SISTERS CALLED HOME

Enthusiastic Meeting Held Last Friday Evening in City Hall by Brooklyn Eagle Representatives.

The boosters of Honesdale were out in full force last Friday evening in the city hall to listen to two representatives of the Brooklyn Eagle talk on the subjects of "The Making of a Great Metropolitan Newspaper and "How to Boost Honesdale and Vicinity." The meeting was attend-ed by about 40 men all of whom had the interest of Honesdale at heart. At the close of the boost session arrangements were made to promote the business interests The first part of the tertainment was in charge of M. H. Weyrauch, of the editorial staff of the Brooklyn Eagle. The talk was informal, instructive and very interesting. He told of the different phases connected with the modern daily newspaper. How the news is collected, what agencies are used and how in many instances with difficulty. Anecdotes illustrating the different experiences of reporters were told in an interesting manner. Following this brief outline of the work, Mr. Weyrauch completed the newspaper talk by showing a num-ber of pictures illustrating a trip through the Brooklyn Eagle's ninestory newspaper building. The slides were exceptionally clear. They represented the different departments, first showing the main office, the news room, art department and press room. Mr. Weyrauch then told of Honesdale's advantages. How the place unequalled any other territory from a picturesque, industrial, commercial and residential standpoint. He paid a very flattering but not exaggerated tribute to Honesdale. He referred to Irving Cliff as being an ideal spot for a summer resort. Mr. Weyrauch next introduced J. Maynard Morgan, advertising expert of the Brooklyn Eagle. Mr. Morgan opened his interesting boost address by asking his audience the question—"What do you think of Honesdale?" #### AN OPEN MIND UPON THE NEW TUBERCULOSIS CURE.

Almost rivaling the news of the discovery of the South Pole has been the report that in Germany a cure for tuberculosis has been discovered. The author of this cure, Dr. Fried-man of Berlin, has published no authoritative statement as to its nature. It is generally believed to be serum resulting from experimentation upon turtles. With this meagre information it is impossible for any sought cure or it may be a tremend-ous hoax. Just now the thing to do is to preserve an open mind upon this subject. Hope that the cure is real. On the other hand remember that every year since 1882 when Dr. Koch discovered the tubercle bacilli, the cure for consumption has been announced. Even Dr. Koch himself thought that he had discov-

The merchants through the col-umns of The Citizen offered a ten per cent. reduction on certain lines of merchandise and thereby reaped the harvest, by making it advantageous to purchase goods at home. Every train coming into the town fore noon hundreds of persons crowded the stores. Many bargains were offered and these were very quickly taken advantage of by buyers not only from town but from various parts of the county. The af-ternoon trains out of Honesdale carried many shoppers loaded down with packages and bundles, which gave evidence of the success of the first local Trade Day this season Many more of these bargain days be held from time to time by the local merchants.

The prospects for a trolley line from Honesdale to Hawley are now bright indeed. It is not known what action the company will take in regard to the franchise as passed but it is very probable that it will be accepted without alteration. All that will remain in that event for the company to do is to get the charter and begin operations.

Under the ordinance as passed by the council the street railway company is given the use of certain streets of the borough for the laying of rails and operating cars. #### MEXICAN REBELS CAMP CLOSE TO BORDER.

Douglas, Ariz., March 10.—Encamped within striking distance of several important border towns, the 8,500 Constitutionalist troops rested on arms to-day while insurrections among federal garrisons strengthened materially the rebel forces. The last word received from the besieged city was from the tele-graph operator, who flashed "Too hot for me here," and left his key just before all wires between Doug-las and Nacczari were cut.
